Overview: Areas of Application of Logos in Corporate and Product Communication

Corporate Communication Rieker

- On Building Facades
- SOC
- Shops
- HR
- Apprenticeships

Exceptions / Special Cases

- When technical reasons require it.
- When visibility or readability is compromised.

- When the use of graphic elements is not possible, such as on small formats (e.g., pens) or to make optimal use of surfaces (e.g., building facades, etc.).

Product Communication Rieker

- B2B and B2C
- On the Product
- In Brick-and-Mortar Retail
- In Online Retail
- In Online and Offline Media

Exceptions / Special Cases

- When communication takes place without a direct product referece but within the product environment (e.g., at the POS), and the company serves an image carrier.
- When the company acts as the sender within product communication (e.g., lookbook title).

Product Communication Rieker Sport

- B2B and B2C
- On the Product
- In Brick-and-Mortar Retail
- In Online Retail
- In Online and Offline Media

Exceptions / Special Cases

- If the brand context is clearly established, the „R" can be used without the Rieker wordmark (e.g., in the online shop).

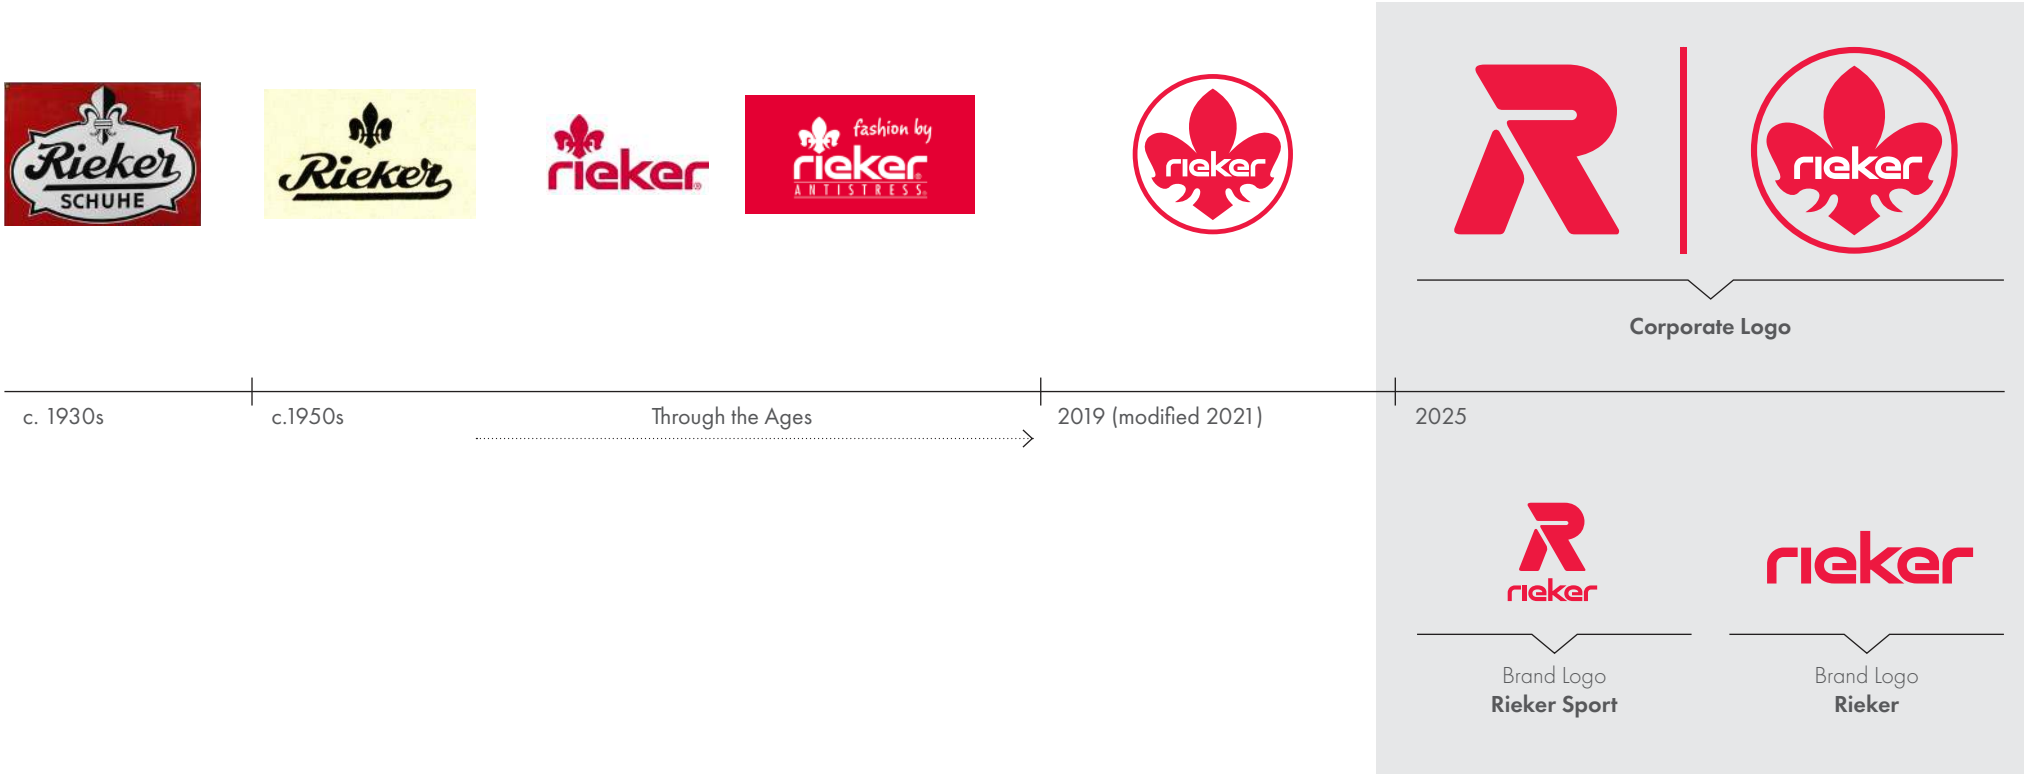
Corporate communication

The Rieker Corporate Brand – Through the Ages

Historically, the corporate logo consisted od the expressive „Rieker“ wordmark and the fleur-de-lis. Over time, it has evolved into a modern combination featuring the dynamic „R“.

The brand essence, and at the same time the foundation of the company's actions—Antistress, Comfort, Tradition, Made by, Quality, Responsibility, Trends, Style, Fit, Technology, Performance, Innovation—plays a decisive role in the company's development. This is reflected in the representation of the two graphic elements in the corporate logo, creating a transfer of the company values into a modern future.

The individual elements of the corporate logo are also incorporated into the products, connecting each product with the defined brand essence.



Corporate Logo: Appearance

The company presents itself with the logo combination of the „R“ symbol and the „Lily“.

The current logo can be found on Rieker eyebase:

(or dark) backgrounds

Secondary Corporate Logo
(For exceptions and special cases to ensure readability and visibility)

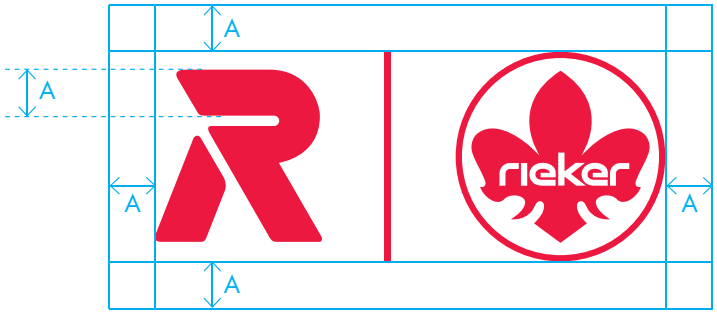
In white for use on red
(or dark) backgrounds

A black version is available for special cases such as receipts, fax, etc.

Corporate Logo: Structure

The corporate logo has a fixed design (templates are available for download).
It is surrounded by a clear protective space, within which no text or graphic elements may appear that could interfere with the logo’s visibility. The logo may be used on white or red backgrounds. Use on very light and neutral images is also possible.

Logo Structure and Clear Protective Space:



If necessary, the logo is placed on a flag at the top edge of the layout. It is structured as below:

Guideline

Product communication

for the brand Rieker

Brand Logo: Appearance

The classic wordmark is used as the brand logo for Rieker in product communication.
The logo is preferably placed on a red flag at the top edge of the layout.

The current logo can be found on Rieker eyebase:
https://dml.rieker.net/view/pinRJSTWA

Primary Brand Logo
in white (for use on red)

In red

A white and a black version are available for special cases such as receipts, fax, etc.

White/transparent
(for digital use, e.g., video)

Black
(for single-colour use, e.g., fax, receipts)

Brand Logo: Structure

The brand logo has a fixed design (templates are available for download).
It is surrounded by a clear protective space, within which no text or graphic elements may appear that could interfere with the logo’s visibility. The size of this clear protective space defines the format of the flag, which is placed flush with the top edge. Partial cut-outs extending beyond the flag may be used if they support the focus on the product or the intended message, but they must not cover the logo.

The logo may be used on white and red backgrounds. In exceptional cases, it can also be placed on very calm, almost monochromatic images.

Product Labeling

Products of the Rieker brand are marked either with the dynamic „R“ or the fleur-de-lis.

Subtle display on the shoe

Shoes marked with the subtle „R“ represent the youthful, fresh styles of the collection. They combine sporty, modern designs with proven comfort. They are delivered in a dynamically designed box*, which emphasizes the modernity of the products.

Products marked with the fleur-de-lis represent the part of the collection that combines comfort with classic, timeless designs. The box is designed in a more traditional style and highlights the brand's Antistress features.

The common, distinctive wordmark and the full-surface design on the box ensure the association of both elements with the Rieker brand.

* This box is also used for the shoes of the Rieker Sport brand.

Corporate Colour

The corporate colour of the Rieker brand is red.

The following values are defined for the Rieker red:
